JUNIOR DRAFTING OFFICER PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT WATER RESOURCES ORGANISATION

As an alumnus of the 2009-2013 batch, I am grateful for the strong foundation Excel Engineering College provided, which has been vital for my career. In my role as a Junior Drafting Officer with the Public Works Department, Water Resources Organization, I apply the skills and knowledge gained from Excel to significant projects in water resources and infrastructure. The education and support from our faculty fostered a technical acumen and problem-solving mindset that I use daily. To current students, make the most of your time at Excel, engage deeply with your coursework, and build lasting relationships. To my fellow alumni, let's continue to support each other and uphold the high standards of excellence our college represents. Thank you, Excel Engineering College, for being a cornerstone of my career and growth. I look forward to our alma mater's continued success.
