Hon'ble Chairman's Message

Excel Medical Institutions have proved to be a powerful conduit that leads towards perfection even amidst the most imperfect of situations. Our caring and accommodating community of professors, students and their parents has grown from strength to strength during this tough journey, thus facilitating an awakening of sorts, pertinent to our vision of holistic development, which is rooted in spiritual values. Excel Medical Institutions during the past four years have seen a balanced blend of academic and experiential learning that I'm sure will help our students stand in good stead in times ahead. A lot of thought and collective wisdom has been invested in our teaching-learning activities, methodologies and assessments. Individual attention, regular follow ups, customised modules, relaxed interactive sessions have all contributed in celebrating the 'uniqueness' of each student. Our medical students have bloomed and blossomed fearlessly in all aspects of life - social, emotional, intellectual and spiritual. We have striven to embolden our students in body, spirit and mind so that they contribute positively and effectively to the wellness of the larger society. The entire community of Excel Medical Institutions deserve our appreciation for having accomplished this transformative endeavour.

WORLD NATUROPATHY DAY

CELEBRATION IN

Excel® GROUP INSTITUTIONS

World Naturopathy Day was celebrated for the 4th consecutive year in the Velappar Hall of Excel Group Institutions, under the initiative taken by Excel College of Commerce and Science. The Hon'ble Chairman of Excel Group Institutions, Prof. Dr. A.K. Natesan, along with the Vice-Chairman, Dr. Mathan Karthick, were the Chief Guests for the occasion. The Executive Director of Excel Engineering College, Dr. Bommanna Raja, welcomed the Chief Guests and spoke of the increasing relevance of Yoga as means of curative as well as preventive measure for the overall wellbeing of the human person. He dwelt elaborately on the theme of the year: 'Rog Mukh Bharat'.

Dr. R. Vibhas, the Principal of Excel Medical College of Naturopathy and Yoga was the Guest of Honour for the event. With the help of the students of his institution, he demonstrated various yogic postures explaining along with them the medical benefits of each. He spoke of Yoga as an 'Art of Living', and demonstrated the various styles of Pranayama for a healthy living. In addition, he spoke of the job opportunities that lay before the students upon the completion of the course both in the public sector and the private sector. The graduates who clear the MRB Exams stood a chance to get govt. appointment as doctors, researchers and allied staff.

Dr. G. Kavitha, Principal of Excel Siddha Medical College and Research Centre, who spoke of the greatness of Yoga and Traditional Medicine, claimed that Excel Medical College was a full-fledged Medical College that followed the AYUSH System of Medicine.

Dr. Saravanan, Principal of Excel Homoeopathy Medical College, in his speech, spoke of Homoeopathy as a System of Medication that combined Naturopathy, Traditional Medicine and Modern Medication without any of its complexities. Homoeo medicine continues to make strides in health care through simple consultation and prescription methods. The most noteworthy point mentioned was that Excel Homoeopathy Medical College organizes free medical camps for the people living in the surrounding villages, and those suffering from various diseases are given free treatment in Excel Medical College Hospitals. The thousands of students staying in the different hostels are taught the ways to keep themselves hygienic and the those in charge of kitchen are guided to serve nutritious food to the inmates.

Dr. Ayyappan, the Principal of Excel College of Physiotherapy, mentioned in his speech that the aim of the institution was to train competent Physiotherapists and personnel who would work hand in hand with other physiotherapists. Physiotherapy combined with Yoga and Naturopathy was ideal to alleviate pain and restore functionality of the injured parts of the body. Malnutrition and loss of body weight can best be overcome by following proper diet along with natural cure which has no side effects. For obesity, the best-known treatment is Yoga along with proper diet and diet control. The programme was followed by a free Medical Camp organized by Excel Medical College of Yogic Sciences. Several Students, Faculty and Office Staff numbering more than 100 participated to make the Medical Camp a mega success. More than 400 participants benefitted from the Medical Camp and they took a resolution to go the Yoga way.
